OUR KEY ACTIVITIES

AGRICULTURE

One of the richest agricultural shires in Australia, the Narrabri Shire has a diverse agricultural sector that produces world class products that are highly sort after globally.

Narrabri Shire is also internationally recognised as a centre of innovation for agricultural research and astronomy.

With rapid technology advances and increased transportation modes reducing freight costs, Narrabri is uniquely positioned for continued strong growth in the agricultural sector.

NIN is fostering investment and increasing export opportunities for its members that operate in the agri-sector.

Historically a bulk commodities market, NIN is providing members with opportunities to diversify, innovate, value add and create shelf ready products for export to lucrative international and domestic markets, with advocacy for major infrastructure and manufacturing investment.

NIN promotes and supports research and engagement with the agricultural and resource sectors to ensure the long term prosperity and co-existence of both industries within our region.

With emphasis on sustainability as well as innovation, diversity and efficiency of agribusiness, NIN has a strong focus on long term growth in our ever changing environment.

OUR KEY ACTIVITIES

ENERGY, RESOURCES & INFRASTRUCTURE

NIN has a strong commitment to ensuring local businesses and contractors have opportunities to engage with resource and infrastructure supply chains.

Narrabri Shire is home to an emerging resource industry of coal and gas, which is estimated to contain around 12% of coal reserves in NSW as well as enough natural gas to supply the NSW market for the next 50 years.

The Narrabri Shire is targeted for numerous approved and proposed state significant developments, including Inland Rail, the Narrabri Gas Project and other proposed developments.

NIN advocates for:

- Investment and sustainable growth in our regional resources sector.
- A commitment to ensuring the local community benefits from continuous improvement of socio-economic and environmental standards from resource activities.

In recent years on a local level, there has been a surge in the renewable energy sector on a domestic and global level. With the combination of a growing demand for clean energy, pre-existing developed industries and skills, this creates an exciting opportunity for our region to diversify even further.

NIN supports research and engagement between co-existing industries, projects and businesses to ensure long term sustainability for all industries and our region.

OUR KEY ACTIVITIES

INFORMATION

NIN provides its members with access to up to date information regarding major projects, tenders, EOIs to support business growth within our region.

The NIN connect platform allows early information and communication, so together members can be the first to benefit from upcoming opportunities.

The connect platform together with regular workshops, seminars and information sessions are held to provide knowledge and industry connections.

NIN provides invaluable early notification of, access to and connection for its members to incoming Tier 1 contractors with the purpose of exposing the membership's capabilities, services and other offerings.
